Detroit Housing Commission

June 5, 1964.

Honorable Common Council:

Gentlemen—We wish to advise that in carrying out the development plan for the rehabilitation of the blighted area known as the Elmwood Park Rehabilitation Project No. 1, lying north of Lafayette Street between Chene Street and the Grand Trunk Railroad Right-of-Way, which is being undertaken by the City of Detroit, it will be necessary to widen Antietam Street, portions of Chene Street, and to relocate St. Aubin Street within the limits of the project.

The Housing Commission is anxious to proceed with the physical improvements in the above-mentioned project and has been advised by the City Engineer's Office that the paving of the streets heretofore mentioned cannot begin until the necessary land is allocated for street widening and relocation.

In view of the foregoing, it will be necessary to adopt the attached resolution allocating the necessary land for the widening of Antietam Street, portions of Chene Street, and the relocating of St. Aubin Street within the limits of said Elmwood Park Rehabilitation Project No. 1.

Respectfully submitted,

ROBERT D. KNOX,
Director-Secretary.

Department of Parks and Recreation March 30, 1964.

Honorable Common Council:

Gentlemen—We are returning, herewith, Petition 4979 of the teachers and children of the former Douglass Houghton Elementary School to name the new park at Abbott and Trumbull in honor of Douglass Houghton.

The park, located in the West Side Industrial Redevelopment Area or so-called "Corktown," is adjacent to the site of the school which was demolished to make way for redevelopment of the area.

Since we received the petition we have reviewed the proposal with the City Plan Commission and carefully considered the naming of the park in connection with the early history of the neighborhood.

Most Holy Trinity Church, located at Sixth and Porter, adjoins the West
