Department of Public Works

March 29, 1946

To the Honorable, the Common Council:

Gentlemen—Returned, herewith, is Petition No. 1038, State, County and Municipal Workers of America, CIO, written to the Common Council by Yale Stuart, Field Representative of the Union.

The Department of Public Works has a research committee, made up of experienced engineers and operators and other technicians, who are continually studying operational methods and organizational changes. Many changes have been made in the last few years and others are being studied continually. We welcome suggestions from our employees' associations and often call in various committees of our employees to work out certain problems with us.

I believe it is the responsibility of the Commissioner of Public Works to call on these committees of the employees as he sees fit and, therefore, recommend that the petition of the CIO for the Common Council to appoint such a committee be denied.

Mr. Stuart made two other suggestions, one of which was that concrete receptacles be done away with. As you are aware, this is covered in our new sanitary ordinance which has been submitted to the Common Council. The other suggestion was that combustible rubbish be burned with the garbage rather than hauled to the dumps. This also is covered in the ordinance and has been for several years.

Some citizens still insist on placing their combustible rubbish with their ashes and other non-combustible rubbish and it is not our practice to separate this material in the alleys. However, we have built a separation plant which does just that. It separates the salable materials, the combustible materials and the non-combustible materials. Our records show that only 25 per cent of the materials that are hauled in to the separation plant are rehauled to the dumps. This is making a considerable saving, not only in dump costs but in hauling costs. No doubt a similar plant will be needed for the west side of the city as the dumps in that area become fewer and the haul becomes longer.

Yours very truly,

GLENN C. RICHARDS
Commissioner
